Subject: Very disappointing

Around here, in Huntsville AL, it seems we have given up fighting Microsoft's strong arm tactics (bordering on racketeering). It appears an unwinnable battle because of the strength of their illegally gained strangle hold on our industry.

The DOJ was supposed to help. The DOJ let Microsoft walk all over them. Microsoft representatives are surely having a hard time not chuckling when discussing their "penalties". Who does the DOJ represent? Certainly not the citizens it appears.

Very disappointing. But at least a few states are listening to their citizens.
